

How AI-ready is your organisation?

A self-assessment tool for Financial Service Providers

Find out where you stand across 6 key dimensions – results immediately

AI is reshaping financial services faster than most institutions expected. But knowing AI matters is not the same as knowing where your organisation actually stands. This assessment gives your leadership team a clear, scored picture of your AI readiness across six dimensions, so you know where to focus and what to build on.

What the assessment covers

01 Strategy & Vision

Does your organisation have a clear direction and leadership commitment for AI?

02 Data Readiness

The quality, accessibility and governance of the data your AI will depend on.

03 Technology & Infrastructure

Whether your technology landscape can support AI adoption at scale.

04 People & Skills

Skills, culture and capacity across your organisation to adopt and use AI.

05 Ethics, Governance & Compliance

Policies, oversight and regulatory awareness for responsible AI.

06 AI Use & Maturity

Where your organisation currently stands with AI in practice – and your ambitions for the future.

Key benefits

- An overall AI readiness score – immediately showing where your organisation stands relative to best practice.
- A shared language for your leadership team to discuss AI readiness in a structured, actionable way.
- An opportunity to benchmark against your peers once benchmark access opens. As more financial institutions join, you will see where you stand relative to similar institutions in your region and globally.
- A dimension-by-dimension maturity rating: see exactly where you are ahead, where gaps exist, and where to focus first.
- A baseline to build on: repeat the assessment over time to track whether your AI readiness is improving.
- The possibility of applying for technical assistance for AI adoption as part of your digital transformation for inclusion journey in the next programme cohort.

How it works

1

Complete the assessment – 24 questions across 6 dimensions. Takes 10–15 minutes online.

2

Get your results immediately – an overall AI readiness score plus a maturity level for each dimension.

3

Use your results – share with your leadership team as a starting point for discussion.
